

Leisure spaces in Surrey

Easy Read version

Surrey Coalition of Disabled People and Royal Holloway, University of London are looking for people to review the accessibility of leisure spaces in Surrey.

Leisure spaces are places such as leisure centres, cinemas, and high streets.

Disabled adults will carry out 5 access reviews of leisure spaces in Surrey.

Access reviews is when you test to see if a building or location is accessible for Disabled people.

We will ask you to explain your access review experience through writing, drawings, photos or a voice/video recording.

We will also ask you to take part in 2 online video calls.

If you are involved in the access reviews project you will receive a £100 Amazon gift card.

We can arrange and pay for transport to and from home to the location of the access review.

We will pay for the entry fees to the leisure spaces for the access review.

Please contact us to participate in the research project. Email us at involvement@surreycoalition.org.uk, call 01483 456 558 or text 07908 671402